2024 ASIAN PEDIATRIC MECHANICAL VENTILATION FORUM (APMVF)

Meeting Announcement

Dear Pediatric Colleagues:

In order to promote the prosperity and advance the progress and innovation of pediatric critical care medicine and respiratory support techniques in Asia, 2024 Asian Pediatric Mechanical Ventilation Forum, organized by Shanghai Medical Innovation & Development Foundation (China) and the National Children's Medical Centre of China, Children's Hospital of Fudan University (China), is scheduled to be held from November 22 to November 24, 2024 (GMT+8), in Shanghai, China.

With the theme of "Mechanical Ventilation and Airway Management in Children", this forum focuses on the basic theory, clinical practice and latest progress of mechanical ventilation and airway management in children. Renowned international and Chinese experts in the field of pediatric mechanical ventilation will be invited to give informative and exciting lectures on hot issues and new developments in children's mechanical ventilation mechanisms, organ function-protective ventilation, mechanical ventilation management and long-term mechanical ventilation. Workshops for healthcare professionals on invasive mechanical ventilation, non-invasive mechanical ventilation, high-frequency ventilation and respiratory therapy will also be conducted.

2024 Asian Pediatric Mechanical Ventilation Forum cordially invites you to participate in the forum, and we believe that this forum will provide a platform for all participating units to learn, communicate and show themselves!
